I am attaching 5 scans of the political pieces recently received from Matt Entenza. The disclaimer shown on all 4 pieces are incorrect; see statute 211B.04. I am making a complaint about this error. The address, city and state should be included as part of the disclaimer.

As a former politician Entenza must be well aware of this law. I included the scan of only 1 back; all are printed by the same union printer-Seven Corners.

Shouldn't the DFL State Auditor Stand Up for DFL Values? Rebecca Otto Says It's Not Her Job

Protecting pensions from privatization is important. So is stamping out fraud, fighting for our public schools and ending corporate giveaways.

But Rebecca Otto doesn't think that's her role. She thinks the Auditor's office should be non-partisan and focus on simply making sure the numbers add up. (AM 950 Interview, 6/5/2014)

In fact, Otto criticizes her opponent for bringing up "policy, policy, policy" like protecting pensions (AM 950 Interview, 6/5/2014) and says as State Auditor "You don't do policy." (WCCO Sunday Morning, 7/20/14)

If You Think Your State Auditor Should Do More Than Just Balance the Books, the Choice is Clear believes the State Auditor should do more than just balance the books – that’s why he’ll also protect pensions, uncover fraud and work to end tax breaks for large corporations.

(www.entenza.com)

Rebecca Otto

believes “the Auditor’s Office is about numbers and government reports” — simply balancing the books.¹ Otto says, “You don’t make policy.”²

Rebecca Otto Joined Republicans and Supported Voter ID Legislation She Denied It...but MPR Proved Her Wrong

Check the Facts

1. Rebecca Otto Facebook post 6/5/2014
2. Minnesota Public Radio, PoliGraph, 6/11/2014

When Rebecca Otto's opponent noted that Otto's votes in support of Voter ID were a key difference between the two candidates, Otto responded to a question on the subject by issuing a denial: "It [Voter ID legislation] was not around in 2003. No one can find a bill on the issue when I served."¹

She was wrong. And Minnesota Public Radio proved it.

MPR found that "Otto cast two votes during her time in office, in both instances joining a large group of Republicans to vote against an amendment that would [have] stripped voter ID requirements from one bill, and then approving legislation that would require people to show ID at the polls."²

Rebecca Otto turned her back on DFL values when she voted with Republicans in support of Voter ID legislation.

REBECCA OTTO SUPPORTED VOTER ID LAWS...

NOT ONCE, BUT TWICE!

It's true: as a DFL legislator, Rebecca Otto voted against an amendment to strike down photo Voter ID laws.¹

Later, she voted for legislation mandating a picture ID to vote.²

Both times, Otto voted against her DFL colleagues and principles and voted in lockstep with Republicans.

Check the Facts

1. Amendment to H.F. No. 1119, 5/8/2003
2. H.F. No. 1006, 5/14/2003

MAKING IT HARDER FOR SENIORS AND STUDENTS TO VOTE IS NOT A DFL VALUE, BUT REBECCA OTTO VOTED WITH REPUBLICANS FOR VOTER ID LAWS.

As State Auditor, Defending Pensions Will Be a Priority for Matt Entenza

Matt Entenza will fight to protect pensions as State Auditor.

Matt believes it's part of the Auditor's role to protect pensions from privatization and Wall Street to ensure that hard-working people get the benefits they deserve, and that their retirement is never compromised.

Protecting pensions is a commitment – it's not just talk to Matt.
